Dear Parents and Carers,

Happy New Year!

I wanted to reassure you that Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) will continue to be well provided for here in school!

I am now the first point of contact for SEND. As this role is so broad and large, each week, Mrs Tattersall, will be in school completing SEND work also. Mrs Tattersall is an experienced SENDCo both through working in schools in Lancashire and also through her work with the Local Authority for SEND. She will be spending time over the coming weeks working with children with SEND in school and getting to know them and also their parents. She will also be working with classroom staff and assessing any children who we have any concerns about and speaking to individual families direct.

As you know, we whole heartedly believe at English Martyrs' that every child has the same right to reaching their full potential and we will do whatever we can to enable this.

Over the coming weeks, I will be meeting with families who have children with SEND and I look forward to working with you.

As always, if you have any concerns, worries or questions, please do not hesitate to contact me through the school office.

Many thanks for your continual support.

Yours faithfully,

Mrs A Howarth
Headteacher
